

FOOTBALL AND WAR.

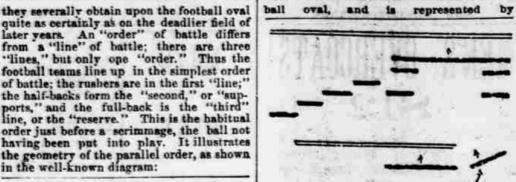

Tactics That Win in the College Contest Will Bring Success in the Deadlier Game.

TEAM WORK AND THE FORMATION.

Yale's Wedge Is as Old as the Frankish Wars and Has Been a Standby With Great Generals.

RUNNING THE END IS FLANKING.

A Striking Parallel Drawn by the Military Instructor at the University.

But the very instant succeeding the snap back, the whole matter falls, and any one of the higher orders of battle must inevitably result.

Blocking out his course of lectures at Yale University two years ago it occurred to C. A. L. Totten, of the United States Army, to use the champion game of the university as a means of illustrating the art of war.

The ideal game for soldiers. Upon its exciting field every one of the tactical problems which concern the plans of generals and troop leaders find their perfect counterpart.

Me to all this is well in keeping with the spirit of the age, for the spirit of the age is a growing degree. Football is the ideal game for soldiers.

The parallel order re-enforced in the center (figure 4) or we attempt to run around the end.

The battle begins: A moves to A, and the battle ends, for B must retire!

The lines of communication are those taken by the ball from the snap-back to the players.

Probably any successful football captain will recognize the force of the fundamental ter, which was weak, and the flanks apart. But the best and most reasonable in the famous "wedge" we recognize a familiar order to the ancients. It was used by the Romans against the Franks at Caslin 824 A. D.

First—The more simple a decisive maneuver, the more sure of success will be its result.

Second—Sudden maneuvers seasonably executed during an engagement or a skirmish are more likely to succeed than those determined upon at a distance, unless the latter, relating to previous strategic movements, are of a nature which are to be decided upon these points where the action is to be fought.

Third—The use of the flank is a decisive factor in the success of a battle.

Fourth—The use of the center is a decisive factor in the success of a battle.

Fifth—The use of the end is a decisive factor in the success of a battle.

Sixth—The use of the flank is a decisive factor in the success of a battle.

New Haven, Nov. 20.—For the first time in several years the Yale and Harvard freshmen have played football, and Yale has won by a score of 22 to 0.

The weather was cold, and the wind swept across the field often bearing rain and occasional snowflakes, chilling the 2,500 spectators, many of whom left at the end of the first half.

Yale presented a team made up of one of the university players for Sanford was left guard, while Hinkey was in his old place at left end.

Stullman, Messler, Dyer and Richards were university stars. Yale had the ball at the start of the game and with unaccustomed work in Harvard's quarters forced it to the 30-yard line. She loses it on four downs and quickly gains it on a fumble by McNear and holds it on Harvard's ten-yard line.

WORLD'S RECORDS BEATEN.

Sidney's Keating From From Lowers the Time Nearly a Second.

STOCKTON, CAL., Nov. 20.—From From, the wonderful little yearling Sidney, owned by Valen's stock farm, tied Bert Bird's world record a week ago to-day. On Tuesday last Sanders drove her in 2:25, beating the record, but to-day he satisfied she could do better, and to-day he drove her a square mile in 2:24, beating his own record three quarters of a second and leaving Bert Bird a full second. She was a little lively in scoring, but when Sanders was given the word to start she settled down, and went the quarter in 35 seconds, handing her out about then, and she trotted second quarter in 35 seconds, going to half in 1:25. Third was slower in 37 seconds, but she came home with a terrific clip for a yearling, trotting the second half in 1:15 and going last quarter in 35 seconds. When she went under the wire she was in a full gallop, and she was a full second faster than the best of the world.
